

A RUNAWAY WORLD CONCEPT NOTE AND SESSIONS

The world is facing a multitude of crises, including geopolitical tensions, economic downturns, rising inequalities, and the impact of climate change. These issues are exacerbated by weakened international institutions, societal polarization, and the resurgence of autocratic regimes, leading to a breakdown of the existing rules-based international order.

Europe must redefine its role in strengthening global governance and enhancing its strategic sovereignty. This involves fostering unity among EU member states, increasing investments in technology and innovation, and addressing security and economic challenges while maintaining a commitment to multilateralism.

To reshape the global order effectively, there is a pressing need for renewed trust and cooperation among nations. Europe should engage constructively with its allies to address shared challenges and demonstrate that multilateralism can benefit all parties involved, thereby improving relations and enhancing its global standing.
